Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

Remember that after your tan begins to fade, your summer sun-tan powder won't' going to match your face. Keep adding lighter powder to it, a little each week, till you skin is back to its natural creamy tone. Then, of course, it will be time to shop for a flattering new powder.

Where One Died in Tornado

Shown here are the ruins of a canning factory at Swedesboro, N. J., after a tornado had ripped it to pieces. George Hemple, of Swedesboro, was crushed to death when a 150-foot steel stack in the nursery fell and smashed the truck in which he was sitting. Eighty others were injured in the carnage. Other sections of Delaware and New Jersey suffered damage from the storm.

Style Notes

Cowl - shaped necklines are again fashionable.

Earrings to match shirt studs is a new jewelry trend.

Novelty watches worn as gadgets is latest style whim.

Fashion's spotlight is on handsome browns for autumn.

Designers play up intricate and vivid color insets in dresses and pajama outfits.

There seems to have been more than the average amount of fruit and vegetables canned up to this time and it is well that it is so. If the dry weather continues much longer, there soon will be need to use some of it.

Mrs. C. H. McCall was hostess at a birthday party Monday afternoon in honor of her five year old daughter, Nancy Jane Holl.

Fads and Fancies

There's going to be a lot of soutache braiding in the scheme of things fashionable this fall. This is especially true in matter of accessories. With the soutache-braided hat be sure to carry a braided handbag to match. Gloves with braided cuffs are new also. For a smart accessory twosome wear a braided belt and gloves.

New vogue for fall calls for wool or silk fabric made up with lace yokes, lace midriff sections, sometimes lace sleeves and often lace insets. So now! Here's a grand chance to "make over" the last season's frock that seems to call for a new slant on fashion. If you are handy at sewing, top the sheer black wool dress off with a lace yoke or conjure up a cunning lace pocket or so.

Jeweled Bow Knots

There is going to be a big play made on unique buttons and jewel fastenings of every description this fall and winter. Note the tailored jacket of chalk white crepe shown here. Its sleeves, yoke and front panel are cut on one, a characteristic feature of the newer fashions.

The five crystal and enamel bowknot fastenings herald intriguing gadgets to be used like buttons.

Home Canning Manual Is French 'Best Seller'

VICHY, FRANCE.—French bookstores report that the present "best seller" is a manual on how to can beans. With the soutache-braided hat be sure to carry a braided handbag to match. Gloves with braided cuffs are new also. For a smart accessory twosome wear a braided belt and gloves.

Rich Browns for New Autumn Wear

There is considerable emphasis on handsome browns for fall. The dresses in initial showings are mostly of rayon crepes and jerseys. These are simply styled so far as "lines" are concerned but have interesting surface treatment in stitching, self-fabric appliques and quilted decoration.

The dressier afternoon models often combine fabric with lace dyed to match or with velvet or satin.

In keeping with the trend to browns, touches of embroidery appear in bronze sequins and metal threads, also favor is expressed for mink fur. Milliners are making up smart little mink hats with matching neckpieces.

Fringes Take On New Importance in Style

Fringed dinner gowns appear in scores of individual treatments. Afternoon dresses too take on accents of fringe. The originality and versatility expressed in trimming with fringe is most interesting.

There is every sort of arrangement from narrow fringe placed row and row in tiers covering the entire skirt to long swinging panels of fringe extending in one continuous line from waist to hem. Fringe also is worked in interlaced manner to give the new drop-shoulder line and to form pockets and girdle effects without losing ends to add grace.

Progressive Merchant Tries Friendly Parking

ALBANY, N. Y.—Here's a new wrinkle in courtesy, from merchant to motorist:

A local merchant on a busy street has a "watcher" deposit coins in parking meters in the absence of motorists whose parking time expires. This practice has avoided many violation tickets.

The "watcher" leaves an orange card on the windshield to advise the motorist of the courtesy.

Monogram Vogue

Monogram it! A vogue is all monograms on everything from tailored suit, your smartest evening gown, your middy blouse to sports socks, the gloves you wear, monogram them! The idea is not so much to have a conventional identification monogram, but rather a decorative design that reflects you.

The effectiveness of an embroidered monogram is demonstrated in the stunning pajama outfit shown at the top. Here navy blue trousers are topped with a full length pimento red, with navy blue monogram embroidered at left. Both the breast pocket of a navy blue blazer suit is embroidered in gold lion, giving it a military motif.

Appomattox Public Schools Opened Today

Appomattox county white schools opened this morning, after the annual pre-opening teachers meeting, here yesterday.

An unusually large number of new teachers greeted the public today. Many of last year's teachers found employment elsewhere, in defense occupations.

The usual large enrollment is expected at the Appomattox high school, although all over the State school enrollment is not expected to reach that of last session.

School busses will run on daylight saving time until September 28.

Most of the opening crasses today will be devoted to registration, arrangement of schedules and ordering of required textbooks.

Mr. Robert Elwood Gensler, of Shippensburg, Penn., will be the new athletic coach at the Appomattox high school. Mr. Fred Edmunds, of Charleston, W. Va., is another late addition to the local faculty, and will teach mathematics and science.

CUMBY REUNION

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cumby, near Pamplin, was the scene of the annual Cumby family reunion on August 31. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cumby and family; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Cumby and family, Miss Louisa Cumby, Clifford Cumby, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Almond and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Almond and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gosling, Warren Foster, Miss Lucille Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Almond and family, James Stone, Miss Alice Stone, Miss Etta Mae Tibbs, Howard Cumby, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Rush, all of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Almond and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Roach and family, Luther Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Lamon and baby, Elijah Cumby, Melvin Cumby, Tom Talley, Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Cumby, all of Pamplin; Mrs. Curtis and family, of Evergreen, Va.; Frank Cumby, of Norfolk; Mrs. Bessie Tweedy, Glover Tweedy, of Rustburg, Va.; J. W. Cumby, of Buchanan, Va.; Mrs. Jessie Carter, Miss Rachel Carter, of Lynchburg, W. Va.; Miss Pauline Cumby and Ernest Harvey, of Quinwood, W. Va.; Mrs. J. N. Brown, family, of Rainelle, W. Va.; and Mrs. Alfred Rush, of Red Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cumby, Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Guthrie, of Farmville; Mr. and Mrs. Watson S. Cumby and baby, Edna Jane, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tibbs, of Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Almond, of Farmville; Bruce Pauell, Dwight Pualett, Ashby Paulett, Burke Paulett, of Appomattox.

LIONS MEET TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the Appomattox Lions Club will be held tonight.

Father Darkleaf's Column

By C.H.R.

Reports from the National Tobacco Festival at South Boston are that Syd Conner, of Appomattox, gave the Queen of the Festival a mighty rush at the big dance last Friday night.

Mother Brigtleaf is complitely confused by the time situation. She comes to work by the old time antiquits by the new, but worse than that she was up early last Friday morning to do her Saturday housecleaning. She was brushing rugs on the front porch, when a neighbor reminded her that it was Friday and not Saturday, whereupon she stopped brushing and finished Saturday!

This will suit the school opening; A mountain clansman brought his son down to Charlottesville to enroll at the University. They set out to find the registrar's office and asked its location of an elderly gentleman, who turned out to be one of the professors. After introductions, the father asked what subjects the old professor taught. He answered, "I'm in the mathematics department. . . we teach Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry. . . . . " whereupon the father hailed him and said: "That triggernometree is what I want my boy to learn, he's the knowit on the trigger in our whole family."

Then, there's the tall tale from the Georgia hills of a tremendous down pour of rain. The water filled up the valleys and backed up a mountain creek to cause the power wheel of a corn mill to turn backwards with the alarming result that 250 bushels of meal were UNGROUND!

Rattlesnakes are scarce in Appomattox county (we hope) but Jud Kinney, rural 3 mail-carrier, recently killed one over a yard long on his mail route. Nine rattles and a button.

Among the men anyway, the war and the President's speech will have no outside interest with the current St. Louis —Brooklyn baseball series.

Speaking of baseball, Father Darkleaf wants to salute the Appomattox Skyline League team. The local outfit won everything but the kitchen stove last year: the league schedule and play-off, the state semi-pro title, and the long streaming ends to add grace.

Next term of the circuit court; Wednesday, October 1st.

Wheat Quota Situation Is Explained by Members of the County Committee

SEEDING WHEAT THIS FALL

There is a persistent statement made on the the streets of Appomattox and we presume out in the country, to the effect that if a farmer grows more than ten acres of wheat that farmer will be penalized. This statement is false and in order to keep the records straight we wish to advise the farmers and the public in general, that this fall's seeding, any farmer under the marketing quota law is entitled to grow up to fifteen acres of wheat without being penalized.

There are only 156 farms in the county normally growing more than fourteen acres of wheat. The fifteen acre limit under the wheat quotas of Agricultural Conservation Programs will take care of more than 95 per cent of the wheat growers of the county.

LOCAL AMERICAN LEGION TO SPONSOR FESTIVAL

The Appomattox Post of the American Legion will sponsor a Festival one week, beginning September 22.

CIRCUS COMING TO APPOMATTOX MONDAY

Elephants, ponies and clowns will be included in the offerings of the Seven-Eleven Circus scheduled to play two performances at Mervins Field just outside Appomattox next Monday.

The show will have 25 trained animal acts, and include as the many features the Weir's herd of performing elephants direct from Coney Island; Chubby Teddy Bear with a Human Brain, Madam Tillie Troup with performing ponies, monkeys and dogs; the Louis Troop of premier girl wire-walkers; the three Rainbow Sisters, aerialists; and many other features.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their kindness shown us and for the flowers, use of cars, etc., in our recent bereavement.

—Mrs. R. L. Woolridge & Family

Land seeded to a mixture containing 25 per cent or more by weight of rye and barley or 51 per cent oats mixed with wheat will not be considered as planted to wheat, if the crop is not harvested for wheat as grain or seed. Either of these mixtures of small grain will make a splendid chop for livestock or feed for poultry, also will be a good winter cover crop for grasses in the fall and clovers and lespedeza in the spring.

Signed:

I. B. Wheeler, Chairman, Stonewall District

C. H. Harvey, Chairman, Southside District

Hunter F. Marlin, Committeeman Clover Hill District

A. W. Covington, Chairman, Clover Hill District.

Home from 'The Wars'

The U. S. S. Wakefield, formerly the S. S. Manhattan, is shown arriving in New York harbor with the force of soldiers who recently went south to co-operate with the U. S. marines in mimic war. Landing exercises, beach head tactics, on the coast of North Carolina were high spots of the "war."

Bombs Explode in Havana

A series of five bombs rocked downtown Havana injuring 15 persons and damaging store fronts. Police believe the bombs were thrown by an anti-Semitic political group. The store "La Moda," well known to tourists from Miami and other parts of the U. S., is shown after the blast.

Liberty Chapel

Liberty Chapel, Sept. 9.- Saving hay and canning is still the order of the day. Although crops and vegetables in general may not be as bountiful as we have had some years in the past, we still have reasons to be very thankful and appreciative.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hatcher and son, Harold and Tyler Coleman were among the dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phelps Sunday.

Mrs. Bob Emmert and little son, of Newport News were visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gunter for the week-end.

Miss Christine Garrette has returned to Courtland, Va., where she goes toresume her school duties as teacher.

Misses Laura and Ellen Kinney, and brother, Judson were guests in the home of Mrs. Mollie S. Garrette Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Anderson and family, of Richmond, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Martin Sunday.

Miss Alfra Garrette has accepted an appointment as a supervisor at V. S. D. B., Staunton, Va., for the session 1941-42.

L. C. Hatcher attended the auction sale of the stock market Monday in Lynchburg.

Marshall Garrette, who spent his vacation here recently, has returned to V. S. D.B.

Mr. Guthrie, an assistant agronomist of V. P. I., with Mrs. Guthrie and their little family, visited MacLavel Farm Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Lillian Russell, an evangelist, of Richmond, closed a revival service at Mt. Comfort church Sunday night. All denominations were attracted by the sincere message of the gospel of Christ. Every service was well attended and much interest was shown by all. Several new members were taken into the church.

The womens' Division of Christian Service, of Salem church met in the home of Mrs. C. E. Martin Wednesday afternoon.

James Hancock, of the U. S. Army spent several days with relctives here.

J. E. Chick, who has been sick, is improving.

Miss Vernelle Almond and Miss Mae Webb entertained Saturday night at the home of Miss Webb. Miss Hazel Moon, who leaves for Ferrum Junior College, next Tuesday, and William Moon, who leaves for Randolph-Macon College next Monday, were honor guests.

Appomattox is a growing town.

Draft News

The rate of calling up men by Selective Service boards in Virginia is expected to be somewhat stepped up during the month of October.

The first October call for Appomattox county is for 6 men.

The local board has passed well beyond half of its Class 1-A Registrants. If the draft calls are made this winter to get men who may be released after serving 12 months, it may become necessary to reclassify some registrants who have been granted defermeni.

Roosevelt to Define Policy Tonight

The attention of the nation will be focused tonight, where President Roosevelt will speak on a radio broadcast at 10 P. M., Daylight Saving time. The President returned to Washington yesterday, after attending the funeral of his mooner, Mrs. Sarah Delano Roosevelt, 86

Great importance is attached to the President's address tonight, in the light of three recent attacks on American vessels by German armed forces. The Secretaries of State, Navy, War, and other department heads have conferred with the President yesterday and today, aiding in outlining the position of the nation. Harry Hopkins, lease-lend supervisor, has also figured in advising Mr. Roosevelt on the status of the present Aid to Britain program.

Mr. Roosevelt's address will center on the delicate relations existing between the United States on the one hand and Germany and Japan on the other. The President will speak 25 minutes.

Informed sources felt that the U. S. Navy would be given orders to defend American shipping in the Atlantic, and that possibly an effort would be initiated to repeal the Neutrality Act, so American ships could carry goods to England.

NOMINATE HAGOOD

Dr. J. D. Hagood, of Scottsburg was nomisted this week by the Halifax County Democratic Executive Committee as Democratic candidate to succeed William M. Tuck, party nominee for Lieutenant Governor of Virginia. A special election to vote on the election of a state senator fromHalifax county will be held September 15th.

Special Series of Meetings

A special series of services has been conducted this week at the Memorial Methodist church. A different minister has been speaking each night, assisting the pastor, the Rev. L. C. Shearer, Jr.

Sunday night the speaker was the Rev. W. L. Asher, of Bedford, Bedford county. Monday night the Rev. O. L. Gillian, of Concord, spoke. Last night's guest speaker was the Rev. T. F. Johnson, pastor of the Appomattox Circuit.

The Rev. H. M. Burleigh, of Prospect will preach tonight, and Friday night Dr. Sheppe, of Farmville will preach.

Large crowds have been attending and enjoying the series.

MARKET OPENINGS

Virginia bright tobacco markets will open next week.
